

Japanese Society of Psychiatry and Neurology Fellowship Award
Application Deadline: September 24th, 2021 (Japan time)

The Japanese Society of Psychiatry and Neurology is pleased to invite young psychiatrists from around the world -particularly Asia- to apply for the Japanese Society of Psychiatry and Neurology Fellowship Award. The purpose of this award is to recognize early-career, outstanding psychiatrists and to encourage academic discussion and personal friendships with early-career Japanese psychiatrists at the 118th annual meeting of the JSPN on June 16th to 18th, 2022, in Fukuoka, Japan.

Award recipients will receive a waiver of meeting registration fees, accommodation, and a prize (JPY 70,000 for recipients from World Bank A and B category countries, and JPY 140,000 for those from C and D countries).

Award recipients will be expected to give a presentation at one of the international sessions, the themes of which are;

- 1. Efforts to ensure continuity of psychiatric care under the COVID-19 pandemic*
- 2. Mental health of healthcare workers under the COVID-19 pandemic*
- 3. Mental health of the general population under the COVID-19 pandemic: including a brief case description*
- 4. Efforts to maintain mental health in the general population under the COVID-19 pandemic, and attend other programs for JSPN Fellowship Award recipients. Award recipients will also be expected to participate in future JSPN Fellowship Award Alumni programs.*

Applicants must:

1. Younger than 40 years of age or with 10 years or less experience in psychiatry
 2. Not be previous recipients of the JSPN Fellowship Award
 3. Belong to a World Psychiatric Association member society
- (To ensure broad participation from around the world, the JSPN accepts nominations from each society up to a maximum of two applicants.)
